

Media update on Perry Players' first play of the New Year!!

Jane Winston 953-0201 or jwin1939@aol.com

Continuing with our season of only fun plays, Divorce Southern Style is guaranteed to make your ribs and stomach hurt from so much laughter!

SYNOPSIS: Eleanor Baner, divorced and broke, tricks her ex-husband Walter into coming to the marriage of their daughter by intimating that Eleanor is “with child.” Actually the daughter is merely marrying the man to whom she has been engaged five times. Walter shows up with his current girlfriend who just happens to be Eleanor’s rival from High School. Set this in the south, throw in neighbors and friends who know them all, add some full scale bickering and you have Divorce southern Style written by Jennifer Jarrett and directed by one of Perry’s finest actors, Todd Wilson! Beverly Cooper and Jane Winston producing.

Audition Dates: January 10, 2010 at 2:30 PM and January 11, 2010 at 7:00 PM

Show Dates: March 12, 13, 14, 17, 18, 19 and 20, 2010

Casting needs: three men and four women
